DETAILED ACTION

A response of 9/28/06 to a restriction requirement of 6/23/06 elected Group I claims 1-7 without traverse.

Claims in the application are 1-27.

5 Claims 8-27 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 9/28/06.

Claims examined on the merits are 1-7.

10 Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

15 (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

20 This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any 25 evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35

Art Unit: 1657

U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marcolongo et al (5,645,934) in view of Graves Jr et al (4,604,097).

The claims are drawn to a flexible, bioactive glass mesh comprising interwoven bioactive glass fibers coated with a resorable polymer.

Marcolongo et al disclose a composite material for implantation comprising interwoven glass fibers impregnated with a polymeric material. For example, see the abstract.

Graves Jr et al disclose biosorbable glass fibers coated with a protective coating (col 3, lines 30-32). The glass fibers can be coated with polylactic acid (col 5, line 38) for use as an implant.

It would have been obvious to coat the interwoven glass fibers of Marcolongo et al with protective coating of polylactic acid, instead of impregnating with a polymer, as suggested by Graves Jr et al coating glass fibers with polylactic acid for use as an implant.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as applied to claims 1-3 above, and further in view of Potter et al (15 on 1449).

The claims require the glass fibers to be interwoven with resorbable polymer fibers.

Potter et al disclose weaving techniques for producing fabric.

Art Unit: 1657

It would have been obvious to interweave polylactic acid fibers with the glass fibers of Marcolongo et al using weaving techniques disclosed by Potter et al since Marcolongo et al disclose using one or more types of fibers and intermingling polymer fibers with the glass fibers (col 7, line 60 and col 8, lines 10-15). The polylactic fibers would have been expected to be advantageous because of being resorbable.
